

Support with your drinking

If you are worried about your own or someone else's drinking, remember that there is always somewhere you can turn for support. There is nothing shameful about asking for help.

Support in your area

Wherever you live, there will be a service in your area which supports people who are struggling with their drinking. You can access these services in a few key ways:

Your GP

Your GP is your first port of call for alcohol problems. They will be able to provide confidential advice and refer you for extra support.

Your local authority's website

Check on your local authority website to see how you can access your local provider.

NHS website

There are a number of NHS services directories you can use to find support and treatment services near you:

- NHS England: nhs.uk/service-search
- NHS Direct Wales: nhsdirect.wales.nhs.uk/localservices
- NHS Inform, Scotland: nhsinform.scot/scotlands-service-directory
- Health and Social Care Northern Ireland: servicefinder.hscni.net
